

RCMP/Sheriff Integrated Traffic Unit (ITU) investigating serious hit & run

Posted May 31, 2018

Queen Elizabeth II Highway, Alberta – The RCMP and Alberta Sheriffs are investigating a serious hit and run where the suspect vehicle has been identified as a red or maroon coloured Ram 2500 or 3500 truck. The public are asked to report any sightings of this truck which will have incurred severe front end damage.

At 11:10, the female driver of an SUV reported that she had been involved in a collision with a truck, and that the truck had fled the scene.

RCMP investigation has determined that the SUV was merging onto the QEII northbound, north of the Airport Road. It was struck from behind by what is believed to be a 2010-2012 Ram truck also travelling northbound. Evidence located on scene indicates that the truck will have major front end damage.

The RCMP collision analyst attended the scene to conduct an investigation.

The 47-year-old driver of the SUV was transported to an area hospital where she is believed to be in stable, non life-threatening condition.

A stock photo is attached of what is believed to be the make of the suspect truck.
